

One Man Killed, Two Injured In Train-Car Crash

John Raymond Gaffney, aged 33 years, 805 Gormorant Street, a World War II overseas artillery veteran, one of the three occupants in a Ford convertible automobile, which was in collision with an E. & N. freight train at Lampson Street level crossing Saturday night, died as a result of his injuries at 9.40 Sunday night in St. Joseph's Hospital.

The other occupants in the two-door car, Alastair Angus McLeod, 1417 Taunton Street, and Robert J. Luney, 24, 816 Cook Street, are in Royal Jubilee Hospital. Their condition today was reported as satisfactory. Neither is considered to be in serious danger.

According to the police the crash, the first involving a train and a car in this area in a long time, Luney was driving the car south on Lampson Street and ran into a southbound E. & N. locomotive, in charge of Engineer George Crocker, where the tracks cross the street.

The impact knocked the engine off its tracks and badly damaged the car, crushing the three occupants together.

Gaffney, who served through the war as a sergeant with the 13th Field Artillery of the Third Canadian Infantry Division suffered a broken skull and other fractures. He was attended by Dr. G. W. C. Bissett at hospital, who reported death due to the skull injury.

A fractured leg, shock and bruises were suffered by McLeod, who is reported by Dr. A. N. Reid to be progressing satisfactorily.

Luney suffered multiple injuries and the doctor attending him reported his condition as "moderately serious." Included are a fractured rib and possible head injuries.

The train was only slightly damaged by the impact, according to J. A. Kennedy, E. & N. superintendent.

Engineer Crocker told police that he was approaching the intersection at slow speed. The train had sounded its three warning whistles on approaching the crossing, he said, also the engine bell was ringing.

The engineer did not see the collision as he was on the opposite side to where the crash occurred. The fireman ordered "stop" when the collision occurred.

Traffic on the rail line was delayed an hour by the incident. Passengers on a train coming along behind the freight had to be let off at Admirals Road and finished their trip by bus to the city.

Level Crossing Victim

JOHN R. GAFFNEY,

son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Gaffney of Regina, a passenger in the car which was in collision with an E. & N. freight train at the level crossing of Lampson Street Saturday night, died in hospital Sunday night from a crushed skull. The war veteran's father arrived here by plane from Regina last night. His mother arrived today. Gaffney had been a resident of Victoria for some years and was residing with his ex-air force brother, Richard, in housekeeping rooms at 850 Gormorant Street.

250 Teachers Enroll For Summer School

The provincial government's Summer School of Education, annual school for teachers conducted in Victoria, today issued a plea to Victoria householders to make available rooms and accommodation for student-teachers this summer.

Officers of the school reported registrations to date totaled about 250, approximately the same as at this time last year. Total enrollment is expected at about 70 when the school starts July 2.

Enrollment may be down some from last year because the physical education specialist courses have been moved from Victoria to Vancouver. There they will be conducted at the Kitsilano High School.

The school will attract teachers from all parts of British Columbia.

Pressure On Canada To Serve On Palestinian Commission

By HARRY P. HODGES
Editor of The Times
LAKE SUCCESS, Long Island, N.Y.—As the delegates to the first special session of the General Assembly of the 55 United Nations—sitting as the political and security committee of the whole—began the third week of deliberations in the fabulous former building of the Sperry Gyroscope concern here today, it was increasingly obvious that Canada would be pressed to become one of the members of the Palestinian commission of inquiry which, it is hoped, will be established before the end of this week.

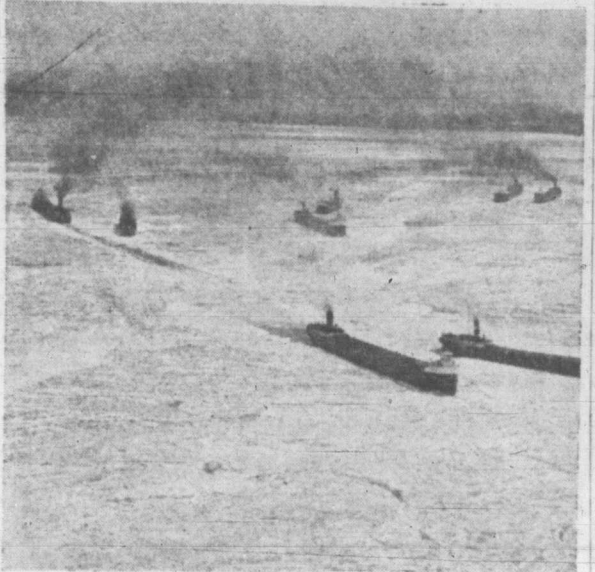

As chairman of this committee, incidentally, Canada's able Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs, Hon. Lester B. "Mike" Pearson, would not commit himself about the future when he talked with me just before he took his seat on the rostrum again to face the more than 50 delegates from numerous old and new world capitals. He expressed no view as to whether Canada desired or would even be willing to accept membership in such, the special commission. But it is no secret here that the principal United States delegate, Senator Warren R. Austin, is assumed to have received instructions from the Washington government to persuade the Dominion to take an active hand in the job ahead.

HON. LESTER B. PEARSON

When I asked Mr. Pearson what he thought about his being drafted to act for his country in this regard, thus adding still another to the many international parts he has played with distinction, he merely shrugged his shoulders and said he had a big and important job to do in Ottawa—and this is true. However, the merry twinkle in his eye, as he told of his joyous Sabbath jaunt "into the country," indicated that he was refreshed and ready for this third week of verbal clash between Arab and Jew. This task, by the way, is no sinecure.

January In May On The Great Lakes

Here are some of the 15 freighters which were icebound for a time in Buffalo harbor by the record-breaking cold snap that made the first part of May seem like January. Heavy ice extended 20 miles into Lake Erie from Buffalo and the U.S. Coast Guard sent the Mackinaw, world's most powerful icebreaker, to smash up the ice jam.

100 More Wartime Houses Asked For Local Veterans

The Citizens' Rehabilitation Council today requested the City Council to approve the building of another 100 wartime houses for veterans in the area. This would complete the 300 houses originally applied for when the special wartime houses for veterans were started 18 months ago.

At the present time Wartime Housing Ltd. has still 1,572 unplaced applicants for houses on their files, Forrest L. Shaw, rehabilitation council chairman, said in his letter.

Of these 575 are from veterans who resided in Victoria prior to 1939 and who have overseas service, and 201 are former Victoria residents who served in Canada only. "It is, therefore," Mr. Shaw commented, "evident that the need for low rental houses in this area for veterans has not been met by the 200 houses which have been built by Wartime Housing Ltd."

Mr. Shaw said he understood that the 50 houses now under construction will shortly be completed, and his organization viewed with alarm the large number of veterans who have still not found adequate housing, stressing that the action to get more low-rental homes is necessary at this time.

The first two of these have now been completed and turned over for occupancy, Ald. Edward Williams, managing director of Victoria Housing Ltd., said today. There will be 10 more completed by the middle of June, and 40 of the 50 are now under construction. The entire project will be finished by the end of summer, he said.

Liquor Sales Down

REGINA (CP)—Liquor and beer sales in Saskatchewan fell off about 15 per cent in the first three months of this year compared with the same period of 1946, while almost all wartime purchase restrictions were lifted, Provincial Treasurer C. M. Fines said today.

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—Provincial Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney, on a tour of interior British Columbia, said here today that land and aerial surveys will be begun shortly north of Hazelton, B.C. The survey will be made along the route suggested for a highway into the Yukon to connect with the Alaska Highway.

Inquest Wednesday

A coroner's inquest into the circumstances surrounding the death of John Raymond Gaffney, 33, 805 Gormorant Street, who died in St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday night as a result of injuries sustained in a car-train crash Saturday evening, will be held Wednesday morning at 10 at McCall Bros. Funeral Home, Esquimalt, police reported this afternoon.

New Trial For Man Slated To Hang

Conviction was quashed and a new trial ordered by the Court of Appeal today, in the case of Rex vs. Davis Houston, who was convicted and sentenced to hang April 8 for the murder of Beatrice Smith, logging camp cook at Bellie Inlet, Nov. 3, 1946. Chief Justice Gordon McGowan read the judgment, stating that Mr. Justice Henry I. Bird dissented.

In court today were C. W. Hodgson, counsel for the youthful Houston, and Lorne H. Jackson, crown counsel. Two trials were held in Vancouver with Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, W. B. Farris, presiding. On the second trial the jury reached a verdict after deliberation of 22 minutes.

Labor Chiefs Of Ruhr Pose Threat To Allies

N.S. Prepared To Negotiate With Dominion

HALIFAX (CP)—Acceptance of Dominion government financial proposals on the basis of new concessions made by Ottawa and provided the Nova Scotia Legislature ratifies the agreement, was announced by Premier Angus L. Macdonald in a session-end speech in provincial legislature today. And he added a big "but."

One of the three provincial hold-outs for better terms (the others are Ontario and Quebec), he made a tough acceptance speech, possibly in time to have the agreement ratified before the session winds up—today or tomorrow. He was critical of the Dominion and termed its $10,900,000 proposal essentially a financial agreement—a rearrangement of the subsidy position—and "nothing more."

But there would be no further bargaining between Nova Scotia and the federal government until a general conference had discussed constitutional questions.

He announced his intention of continuing his fight for "just provincial demands and claims" and quoted the words of a ringing Scottish war song: "They have not seen the last of my bonnets and me."

TO ACT FREELY

He reviewed the history of Dominion-Provincial relations up to date, and said:

"We hold ourselves free to express such views and to take such action as may seem desirable in those aspects of our constitutional life that are not fiscal or financial in their nature. We shall try to preserve the basic principles upon which Canadian federalism was founded and upon which, subject to modernization, it must continue to be based if we are to be a united people."

Cheers Greet Ceremonial Return Of Royal Family From S. Africa

LONDON (CP)—Almost at the exact hour of their coronation 10 years ago today, the King and Queen—with Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret—returned from South Africa today amid the thunderous welcome of thousands along the flag-draped streets of Portsmouth and London.

Disembarking from the battleship Vanguard, they traveled by train from Portsmouth to London's Waterloo Station, where they stepped onto a wide red carpet leading the dusty concrete platform.

Formal greetings were given by Prime Minister Attlee and a host of civic and government dignitaries.

BOWS AND HANDSHAKES

Mr. Attlee and Home Secretary Ede greeted the Queen with the conventional bow and handshake, but Brazilian Ambassador Moniz de Aragao, attired like the rest in a tall hat and tails, stooped and kissed her hand.

B.C. Government Employees Here Overwhelmingly Back 5-Day Week

Provincial government employees here will enjoy a five-day week which will practically close down the Parliament Buildings here on Saturday if a move initiated by the B.C. Provincial Government Employees' Association here is successful.

The union, conducting a circularized vote among the employees in Victoria, reported today that an overwhelming majority of the ballots returned to date have been in support of the five-day week proposal. Sent out were 1,800 ballots. It is expected 1,500 will be returned. Returned to date have been between 800 and 900 ballots, most of which have endorsed the five-day week principle.

Result of the poll to date is scheduled to be discussed at a meeting of the association, chartered by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, tonight. Complete result of the poll, however, is not expected to be known in time for the meeting.

Beside providing for a five-day work week, the association's plan, yet to be presented to the provincial executive of the association, and to the provincial government, will, if adopted, give provincial government employees here a 36-hour work week instead of the present 5½-day, 37½-hour work week.

Victoria provincial government employees are the first to take up the issue, but it is expected, if the "test case" here is successful, a similar move will be started by provincial government employees elsewhere in the province, including Vancouver, New Westminster and other smaller centres.

In the results counted to date certain groups of employees have signified that it may be necessary for some of their members to work on Saturday. These include the provincial library staff, the Parliament Buildings guards, maintenance crews and court house and land registry office employees.

The association feels that this may be worked out under a five-day, 36-hour week system with some of these employees taking a day other than Saturday off. The Saturday staffs of these departments, however, would be small.

Barbara Ann Sobs On Handing Back Car Ottawa Gave Her

OTTAWA (CP)—Tears welling up in her blue eyes, Barbara Ann Scott today handed back to Mayor Stanley Lewis the keys to the canary-colored phaeton a grateful city had given her for the honor she brought it in winning the world figure-skating championship.

Her chances of preserving her amateur status and competing in the 1948 Olympic Games were presumably enhanced by the move, but it was a wrench for the capital's 19-year-old sweetheart.

Seeking a moment's refuge behind a friend's car after the ceremony, she sobbed openly, and smiled a moment later when newspaper photographers approached.

The "ceremony"—an informal affair attended only by a few friends and newspaper men—took place at the downtown premises of the automobile dealer who had obtained the car. Shortly before noon, Barbara Ann, accompanied by her mother, drove the car up before the garage doors, slipped from behind the wheel, and, almost inaudibly, handed the key to Mayor Lewis.

"It is a real grief to have to take the car back," Mayor Lewis said.

"The city wishes to do everything possible to assist you and we regret having to do this. You are still Ottawa's sweetheart," he added.

Not Responsible If Food Crisis Not Ended Soon

HERFORD, Germany (Reuter)—Leaders of all trade unions in the big Rhineland city of Duesseldorf today told British occupation authorities that unless they were given a definite assurance of the food situation within the next 10 days they would resign and "could not be responsible for the consequences."

The warning, sent to the British regional commissioner for the North Rhine and Westphalia, William Ashbury, was approved by a stormy meeting attended by some 500 trade union leaders.

The resolution said that if trade union leaders resigned, German administrative authorities might follow suit.

The union leaders asked the British to take steps to ensure a "minimum standard of living" and said that if the Allies were really on the side of humanity, now was the time to show it.

"We realize that Britain is performing services for Germany and that these must be paid for," they added, "but at the moment it is of the utmost importance to give help to the starving people."

STRIKE FAVORED

The general feeling at the meeting appeared to be in favor of an immediate protest strike, but tempers of the delegates cooled down a little after chairman of the Duesseldorf Trade Union Council Fritz Stahl had spoken about the difficulties in maintaining food supply.

Two thousand employees of the Wuppertal Town Council issued a statement saying they could not insure regular supplies of gas, water and electricity after today because up to 30 per cent of them were ill from lack of food.

On Sunday, Lord Pakenham, minister responsible for the British zone of Germany, held a secret, three-hour conference with Hans Luebbe, North Rhine-Westphalia Food Minister.

The Ruhr's food crisis showed little signs of improvement as millions of workers entered their fourth week on a ration little more than half of the official 1,550 calories per day.

An official announcement issued in Duesseldorf reported that the authorities were "encountering increasing difficulties in meeting the food ration." Potatoes were available only for top priority consumers, the announcement said, and it had been found impossible to supply any meats, fats or skimmed milk to those without special ration cards.

In the textile city of Wuppertal the Social Democratic majority on the town council threatened to leave office unless the food situation improved.

The sets, one of which will be located at Patricia Bay, can assist any aircraft having a normal two-way radio.

Scenes At Esquimalt Train-Car Collision

One of the injured, Alastair McLeod, 1417 Taunton Street, of the three occupants of a car involved in a collision with an E. & N. train Saturday night at Lampson Street crossing is being given first aid by police, train operators and others before being rushed to hospital in ambulances. A splint for a broken leg is being applied.

This scene gives an idea of the badly smashed state of the car after it had collided with the train.
The locomotive engine was only slightly damaged by the impact, which derailed it.

A large crowd of children and adults attended at the accident scene, which was stained with blood from the injured persons in the automobile. Esquimalt, Saanich and naval police attended with ambulances to convey the injured to hospital and to keep order.

Transport Board Leaves On Tour With 1,500,000 Words Of Evidence

OTTAWA (CP)—When Canada's Board of Transport Commissioners starts off on a transcontinental tour next week, it will have a stack of volumes containing some 1,500,000 words of testimony taken here in the last three months.

The theme of these words—plus some 300 exhibits—is that Canadian railways on the one hand need $87,000,000 a year more to keep going efficiently, or on the other don't need any such sum.

Since Feb. 11 the six-man board has been in almost continuous session, taking the railways' side of the case. That concluded Friday.

Now they are about to embark on a 6,000-mile trip to obtain the other side of the case. They will move first to the Maritimes, cross the country to Vancouver and then come back to Ottawa for clean-up evidence and final argument.

Across Canada they will hear from people who would pay that bill of $87,000,000 a year—the shippers and consumers—and provincial governments and others interested.

At Ottawa the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific have tried to put over the point that they will go behind at a multi-million-dollar rate unless granted increases.

The nationally-owned line estimated that it will have a deficit of some $45,500,000 for 1947 unless it gets the increases.

Without the boosts, the C.P.R. told the board, it would be shy by $40,000,000 of meeting its requirements.

Irrigation Group On Prairies To Ask B.C. To Join

MEDICINE HAT (CP)—Formulation of plans which it is hoped will lead to increased irrigation throughout western Canada was discussed during a week-end at a meeting which saw the birth of a new reclamation association for western Canada.

At present taking in only Alberta and Saskatchewan, the organization will hold another meeting in Lethbridge July 11-12 to which Manitoba and British Columbia will be invited.

Concerned with seeing that farmers can produce crops under as favorable conditions as possible, the association's main objective will be to strive for extensive irrigation throughout regions where proper water channeling can greatly increase output.

Need for an organization which can effectively work towards increased soil fertility was indicated recently through statistics by Dr. A. G. McCalla of the University of Alberta. He said that from 1921 to 1943 drought struck southeastern Alberta 50 per cent of the time.

Through proper irrigation it has been estimated that drought years can be eliminated and farmers, through selective crops, can greatly increase their income.

Instead of grossing approximately $20 an acre from dry land, wheat farmers could gross between $120 to $360 an acre on watered land raising vegetable canning crops and from $125 to $225 raising sugar beet crops.

Dairy Farmers Ask Ceiling Off Butter

OTTAWA (CP)—A delegation representing the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and the Dairy Farmers of Canada pressed for abolition of butter rationing and ceiling prices on all dairy products and establishment of substantial floor prices on these products, in a meeting with Agriculture Minister Gardiner Saturday.

The delegation's statement, presented by John Ballantyne, vice-president of the Dairy Farmers of Canada, said dairy farmers were "dissatisfied and discouraged" and the price increases in dairy products announced April 30 were inadequate to meet the critical situation caused by the increased

Approve Plans For Ladysmith Junior-Senior High School

LADYSMITH—Finalized plans for a new and modern half-million-dollar junior-senior high school and reconstruction of two elementary schools, were given approval at a special meeting of District 67, Board of School Trustees, here.

Estimated principal cost of the project to ratepayers of District 67 is $256,500, although actual cost of proposed new school units is placed at $311,500. The board is applying for 50 per cent building grants of $255,000 under provisions of the School Act.

These figures include provision for complete reconstruction of the Market Square school for Grades 1 to 3 and of the Annex School, Fourth Avenue, for Grades 4, 5 and 6. Cost is estimated at $24,000 for these projects, half of which would be raised by taxation in this district and half to be by government grants.

The green light was given the school board at a representatives' meeting held on Wednesday evening in the city council chambers, with members from the school attendance areas from the four sub-districts constituting the greater part of District 67, in attendance. Only two dissenting votes were cast—both coming from North Oyster district representatives.

Detailed plans for the proposed new construction have been forwarded to the Department of Education for endorsement and fixing of grants as laid down in the School Act.

Duncan School Board To Consider New Accommodation

DUNCAN—A discussion of proposed school schedules, extra class rooms and transportation, will be held at a special meeting of the Duncan School Board, called for Tuesday night.

The regular board meeting Friday night, learned that 28 children would be arriving shortly at Fairbridge Farm School.

A letter was received from the salary committee of the local teachers' association, asking for clarification of the board's action in not granting an increase in the principal's salary, according to schedule. The board advised that they consider a notice of dismissal when upheld by the board of reference, automatically gave notice that no further increments should be granted.

Shawigan Lake Women's Institute was given permission to make improvements and install playground equipment on the school ground, which is being held for further building purposes. The Bench P.T.A. were granted permission to proceed with clearing of property adjoining the school, for a community playground. The finance committee was asked to consider a request of F. Grant, head of the Boys' Band, for further equipment.

A division of band instruments will be carried out, the board decided, with the Canadian Legion being held responsible for certain instruments turned over to them, for the use of their band.

The board approved the action of the building committee in sharing the cost of renovating the foundations of the old school building with the city of Duncan.

Mrs. W. Mottishaw was appointed on a temporary basis to fill the position of Mrs. W. Robinson of the Duncan Elementary School staff.

Courtenay Farmers Refuse To Pay Tax

British Conservatives Would Reduce Nationalization

LONDON (CP)—The Conservative Party Sunday reaffirmed that it is "opposed to nationalization in principle" and promised that, if re-elected, it will restore "a wide measure of freedom" to the Liverpool cotton market, long-distance road transport and to unspecified sections of civil aviation.

This was one of the main points in "The Industrial Charter," a 40-page statement of the Conservative industrial policy issued in preparation for the next general election expected in 1950.

Another point in the "charter" is the re-statement of the Conservatives' belief that the "principle of granting (imperial trade) preferences which has been the lifeline of our Commonwealth, and in particular of our colonies, must be preserved."

Stating the "standard of life of the people is in greater danger in 1947 than it was in 1945" and accusing the Labor government of waging a class war instead of the battle for production, the booklet sets forth the Conservatives' "abiding objective" as aimed at freeing industry for "unnecessary controls and restrictions."

If re-elected, the booklet says, the Conservatives would have one cabinet minister "instead of a bunch" responsible for all economic planning.

The Conservatives make three points in the "Workers' Charter":

1. Security of employment.
2. Incentive to do a job well and get a better one.
3. Status as an individual, however big the firm or mechanical the job may be.

The "Workers' Charter" proposes: Equal pay for women, lower taxes and extension of the principle of extra pay for extra work to increase incentive. The Conservatives also promise government planning to maintain full employment and restate their contention that the party's policy is "in favor of trade unions."

"We do not believe that it will be desirable to restore private ownership of the coal industry and the Bank of England," the booklet says, but adds that industries remaining nationalized "will be submitted to rigorous examination from the point of view of their economic efficiency."

T.C.A. Lays Off 200 Temporarily

WINNIPEG (CP)—Approximately 200 employees of Trans-Canada Air Lines in the Winnipeg area have been laid off temporarily, it was announced Saturday. The layoff, first in T.C.A.'s history, extends over the last two months and was caused by delays in delivery of aircraft and an over-estimate in maintenance work, officials said.

Plane Crash Kills 2 Tacoma Brothers

TACOMA (AP)—Two Tacoma brothers, George Stone, 36, and Oscar P. Stone, 34, crashed in the residential section here Sunday afternoon and were burned to death in the resulting fire. They were flying a light two-passenger plane and were waving to friends on the ground when their plane stalled on a turn and went into a spin.

Big T.W.A. Plane Bursts In Mid-Air Killing 4 Persons

CAPE MAY, N.J. (AP)—A T.W.A. Constellation exploded in mid-air and crashed into Delaware Bay Sunday, killing four persons.

Although nearby fishermen reached the scene, near the Brandywine Shoal lighthouse, shortly after the crash, they found only a few splinters of the plane, some bits of flesh and several articles of clothing.

T.W.A. offices at New Castle, Del., identified the dead as: Patrick S. McKiernan, Pomeroy, Wash.; Robert E. Weeks, Hockessin, Del.; Luke Vollack Jr., Cheltenham, Wyo., and Martin Heller, Beechfield Avenue, Baltimore.

The keeper of the lighthouse, about 10 miles west of here, said he heard a plane flying low and then an explosion. As he ran outside, he said he heard two more explosions—and then saw the wreckage 200 yards south of the lighthouse.

The plane, disappeared from view almost immediately, leaving little evidence of the tragedy by the time the fishing boats reached the scene. The Coast Guard dispatched two boats to the scene from Cape May and Lewes, Del.

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The Independent newspaper Diaro de Noticias Saturday said military authorities had arrested about 30 army sergeants and charged them with "organizing a military plot" to restore former President Getulio Vargas to power.

The newspaper quoted "authoritative circles" confirming the existence of a plot.

TRIUMPHAL RETURN

THE ENTHUSIASM WITH WHICH Portsmouth and London greeted the Royal Family on its return today from South Africa attests the personal popularity of its members. The scenes which marked the people's welcome to this revered family group were, as newsmen remarked, reminiscent of the coronation, just 10 years ago to the day.

Apart, however, from the triumphs such occasions mark for British royalty, this show of affection has a deeper significance. It is a further demonstration of the stability of people who have weathered the storm together, are still passing through trying times, but who, with all their anxieties and annoyances, retain the basic loyalties which have contributed to their greatness. It is questionable if many in the throngs cheering Their Majesties attributed great significance to the South African tour in so far as it concerned the strengthening of ties between that land and Britain. Rather were they demonstrating their attachment to a family which symbolizes for them so much that is dear to their hearts.

In the King, the Queen and the two Princesses they saw not only persons of exalted rank; they saw four humans who had stood by them in their hour of trial, when merely living in England placed them in the front row of aerial battle. In their King they saw a man who, one decade ago, had assumed the onerous responsibilities of monarchy and who, through the greatest war history, had discharged his duties faithfully and well. And in his consort and their daughters they saw willing helpmates who had contributed to the strength with which he met the many ordeals of his office in wartime.

The thousands who lined the streets of Portsmouth and London today were doing more than accord a triumphal welcome to a returning monarch. They were echoing faith in their own Britain, a faith on which will be built in no minor degree the re-establishment of a country sorely impoverished by the defence of freedom.

COSMIC BROADCASTS

MOST RADIO LISTENERS WILL HAVE little sympathy with the activities of the Wheaton, Ill., engineer who has devised an intricate receiving apparatus with which he listens to the radio waves which are produced in space by the forces of nature. Mr. Grote Reber listens with enthusiasm to the weird crackling, hissing and popping which come from the ether, and which ordinary radio users do their best to eliminate.

In addition to studying the natural radio emissions, Mr. Reber keeps an ear cocked for signals which may indicate that some intelligent beings—perhaps Martians—are sending forth messages which may be picked up on earth. So far he has heard nothing that gives any hope that such signals exist.

There may be some who, in revolt against the radio fare which is served up day and night across the continent, may incline to the opinion that Mr. Reber is getting the best of it in any case, by sticking to his reception of plain static. Be that as it may, the Wheaton scientist shares a fundamental privilege with all listeners—he has only to turn that little knob to achieve peace and quiet.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S FUTURE

EFFORTS OF THE PEOPLE OF NEW-foundland to determine the future status of their country have apparently received another setback in the reported failure of the seven-man delegation which visited London for discussions with the Dominion Secretary. The delegation was said to have left "disappointed, annoyed and insulted" by its reception.

For the past year or more a national convention of Newfoundland representatives has been considering the various avenues which are open to the rocky, sea-girt country: self-government as a Dominion, union with Canada as a tenth province, union with the United States, representative government under an elected Assembly and a Crown-appointed Legislative Council, or continuation under the present rule of a Commission appointed by the British government. The Commission took charge in 1934 when Newfoundland's economy had reached the point of bankruptcy. Revived lumber, pulp and fish markets, along with the wartime boom of the strategically-placed island, have restored the country's finances and it now is preparing to choose its future course. Negotiations have been protracted and inconclusive, as the convention strives to gather information on all phases of the situation.

A certain pro-American sentiment has been traditional in Newfoundland, as a result of commercial ties with the New England states and the emigration of many of the islanders to that area. The enforced retention of United States troops on the island throughout the latter part of the war and into the postwar period may have caused the usual feelings of local friction in some cases; but there is reason to believe their American neighbors are still held in high regard by Newfoundlanders. There appears to be less direct personal contact with Canada, but a realization that, geographically, union with the Dominion would be logical. As to "going it on their own," Newfoundlanders have not forgotten their dependence on world fish and lumber markets, nor the lean times which they have experienced in the past.

The country could contribute considerable and gain much from a union with Canada. With many of its people living in tiny isolated fishing communities, the educational and health services of the island need special development. And there are large areas and resources which require capital for their exploitation. On the credit side, Newfoundland would provide a population of stable, industrious people, and a considerable wealth of basic resources. Of chief significance is Newfoundland's position as the hopping-off point for trans-Atlantic flights. Her strategic situation cannot have been overlooked by British, United States or Canadian government leaders as they await formulation of the islanders' decision.

CLOSER ASSOCIATION

ON THE ASSUMPTION THAT ECO-nomie co-ordination of the different zones in Germany is essential to the rehabilitation of Europe, the reported favor with which France now looks at closer association with the Anglo-American occupied territories will be viewed as a hopeful sign. As long as the different sections of the former Reich are rigidly compartmentalized, the opportunities for cohesive action to re-establish Germany's industrial potential are minimized.

How far the establishment of closer accord between France, Britain and the United States might go toward inducing a more conciliatory attitude from Russia, must, of course, remain in the realm of speculation at present. It would seem logical, on the other hand, that if the three western powers could combine their efforts successfully in a way to foster an efficient system of industrial output, the nature of their achievement would attract participation by the U.S.S.R. in the scheme for the material benefits which would accrue.

It seems obvious that each of the control authorities can hamper recovery of the whole by insisting on independent treatment of each specific zone. As a corollary, it would appear sensible to expect progress from the integration of essential facilities in the various sections which now are under different economic controls.

None of the occupying powers, moreover, has any inclination to encourage a restored war potential in Germany. They recognize the vital part that nation's industry must play in the rehabilitation of the entire continent. If they can bring mutual trust to the task of re-establishing the latter, without stimulating the former, they should be able to make a substantial advance in the restoration of Europe.

If for no other reason than self-interest, France seems inclined to see merit in the Anglo-American plan. Should fusion of the three zones of occupation approach more nearly a reality than it is today, some benefits at least should be forthcoming, with or without later Russian participation.

WHICH MOTIVE?

CHARGES BY AUSTRALIAN NEWS-papers that the Building Trades Federation in that country has advised its eight affiliated unions to boycott construction of the rocket and "advanced weapons" testing ground in the Australian hinterland will be followed with interest by students of the international scene. According to the news reports the union action was "a Communist move" to ensure that the British Empire will lag in competitive development of rockets, pilotless planes and other similar equipment, although based on the expressed intention of preventing Australia from becoming "a base for future war."

There appears to be no such dislike of dabbling in the scientific development of war weapons as far as the Kremlin is concerned, and if the boycott reason given by the Australian Communists is the true one, then the party in that country is far out of line with current Moscow thinking. Russia apparently does not fear she is promoting another war by intensive research in all branches of military equipment. Pending establishment of a central global force to preserve peace, a similar interest in research should not be denied the British Commonwealth by Australian Communists on pacifist grounds. Their boycott move makes much more sense when viewed, as it is by Defence Minister John Dedman and Opposition Leader Robert Menzies, as an effort to hold back British Empire progress to the advantage of Soviet development.

As represented in the news dispatches, the Australian incident has every indication of fifth column technique. It is a manifestation not unknown to other strike-hampered members of the British family of nations.

Paying The Chits

By PETER EDSON from Washington
SOMEONE IN THE United States may soon have an awful lot of explaining to do on wartime financing. Background of the queer $500,000,000 "loan" which former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr., negotiated with China's T. V. Soong back in 1942 was recently dug into by this correspondent. Though the war has been over nearly two years, nothing has been done to work out a settlement for this $500,000,000 which was almost entirely wasted in futile juggling of Chinese finances.

Now another of the Morgenthau policies is being exhumed. It is the handling of occupation currency—the paper money which was printed for use in enemy countries after they were invaded and conquered.

Army finance officers did the actual disbursing of this currency and are responsible for its accounting. But the top policy was worked out by Treasury experts.

INTERNATIONAL law provides that any governing authority has the power to issue currency. Shortly after the American forces invaded North Africa in 1942, the Treasury announced its plans for using printing press money in the invaded countries. To all outward appearances, there was no security to back up this currency.

Reporters queried Morgenthau about it at a press conference, but he assured them that everything was under control, that it would all turn out right in the end.

The theory was that the occupied, enemy country would have to redeem all this occupation currency in the end, so the American taxpayers would not lose a cent. In fact, the argument was made that this was really one way to reduce the cost of the war and make enemy countries pay for it. Today that is not so clear.

State, Treasury, War Department and Bureau of the Budget officials are not ready, can not or do not want to talk about it.

ARMY-FINANCE officers have nothing to say either. However, the War Department is now preparing a detailed report on its financial operations abroad, for submission to Congress. But the report will not be ready for several months, till audits are completed. Today there seem to be only the most general notions of how much of each kind of currency was issued, and what happened to it.

For one thing, bales and boxes of this currency were turned over to the British. They used it to pay troops and pay bills, as the United States did. Nobody bothered about how it would be redeemed.

Then last month the British War Office had to ask Parliament for a direct appropriation of 20 million pounds sterling—roughly $80,000,000—to cover losses of the British military government in handling this occupation currency. It was this action which first centered attention on the possibility of similar losses to the American taxpayers.

THE BRITISH admitted openly what had happened. They paid their troops in Germany in occupation marks. The soldiers bought cigarettes, food, nick-nacks at their canteens. These were sold to the Germans at black market prices. British soldiers then exchanged their marks for British money to send home. The same thing happened in the American zone, but on a bigger scale.

One of the biggest financial boners of the war was the U.S. government decision to turn over to the Russian military government the plates from which billions of German paper marks were printed as occupation currency for use of troops and civilians in Germany. The Russians have never made an accounting of how much of this stuff they turned out or what they did with it.

BUT POURING all this paper money into the German economy in British, American, and Russian zones could lead to only one thing—inflation. During the war Hitler's price and rationing controls were pretty rigidly enforced. That kept German currency stabilized. The prewar Reichsmark was worth about 40 cents. At the end of the war it was 30 cents. Six months later it was worth a dime. Today it is 4 cents.

For six months the Big Four finance directors of the Allied Control Council have been wrestling with the problem of pegging the mark and getting the German financial structure in such shape that Germany can do business in international trade.

Recently these financial directors agreed to issue a new Deutsche mark, which will be worth 10 of the old Reichsmarks. Anyone holding the old marks will be asked to turn them in at this 10-for-1 rate. This action has to be confirmed by the Control Council. It will probably take six months to get the new currency printed and put in circulation.

THERE IS ONE big hitch in the plan. American military government authorities are now insisting that the new Deutsche mark be printed in Berlin, under four-power control. The Russians want to print the new money in Leipzig, which is where they have been printing occupation currency for their zone. Having been burned on this deal once, American officials are apparently determined not to be burned again.

While it was the duty of the Germans to recognize that total war meant total defeat when defeat came, it is now the Allies' turn to recognize that total victory means total responsibility for whatever happens in Germany. —Dr. Kurt Schumacher, German Social Democratic Party leader.

Film Magnate Rank Looking For Realism

By HARRY HODGES, Editor of the Times from New York.

ALTHOUGH his vast and ever-expanding organization has only a few units operating in Canada on what the trade calls "shorts" Mr. J. Arthur Rank, the British film magnate of international renown, told me in his suite in the Sherry-Netherland Hotel yesterday afternoon that his scouts are "inspecting" many frontiers.

I was intrigued by this robust and jovial Englishman's reference to frontiers. He promptly anticipated my unspoken query.

For a long time the frontier, life in the raw with its kaleidoscopic facets, has come to be regarded as peculiarly the American frontier. But what about the Canadian frontier, the Australian, the New Zealand frontiers—and those of other British lands whose true and realistic story still remains to be told through the magic of the screen of song and picture.

This is one aspect of Mr.

Rank's program for revealing "things as they are" as distinguishable from the all-too-familiar glamorization to which some studios are prone. This difference between the British picture, especially of the latterly improved variety, is well known. Therefore, Rank strenuously objects to a technique which almost completely obliterates the central theme by an overload of glamour. He demands realism—a faithful presentation of actual conditions of life, regardless, of course, of locale.

It was not easy for Mr. Rank to maintain a continuity of thought, because from the moment he passed the gangplank from the Queen Elizabeth last Friday morning, voices over his telephone battery have reached him from many parts of the world—mute testimony to the magnitude of his own film empire. But to illustrate the main point which he appeared most interested in emphasizing, he specifically alluded to the movie "Brief Encounter" as having, instead of a "glamorous star," "an excellent star" true to the part. And the distinguished visitor dismissed me with this statement which he asked me to quote: "The people of Britain have a completely exaggerated and distorted idea of Canada, and the United States. Chicago, for instance, is not a city of thugs which some Englishmen imagine it to be, or as some writers of thrillers still depict it. On the other hand, Chicagoans delight in their magnificent and spacious boulevards, their shrines of culture and learning; and they naturally resent the least assault on their sense of civic pride."

When I asked him when he expected to be out on the Pacific coast, particularly in Victoria, Mr. Rank replied that his movements were of such uncertainty that he could not say. But I had talked with a most interesting personality.

On Buying A New Hat

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

WHEN ONE SALLIES forth arrayed in a new outfit of any kind it is not easy to suppress a feeling of self-consciousness and a sense of superiority.

Unfortunately this arouses in some people a sense of inferiority, which too often begets envy and even hatred. That was the effect my new hat had upon one whom I regarded as a friend when I casually sauntered into his office. At first he pretended not to notice it, and to relieve a growingly tense situation I sat down, removed the offending shingle, and quite innocently laid it upon his desk. "New hat, eh?" he said.

There was a touch of cynicism in the remark, but I ignored this and replaced the hat upon my head and asked him how he liked it. He had to admit that it was "quite smart," and he asked me what I'd paid for it. I complained that it cost me eight dollars, but added that it was a real fur felt.

SCPTICAL SMILE

He assumed a sceptical smile, and examining the hat closely, he turned down the leather lining and, peering in, said he hated to doubt my word, but the price marked was seven dollars. I reminded him that price ceilings had been lifted, and that head-clothes were no exceptions.

All of which goes to reveal the weakness of human nature, for here we have a common example of the beginnings of class distinction, with the inferiority complex, envy and class-hatred that follow in its train. How far has man fallen from his primeval state of nature when he roamed the earth with little or no clothing! The Declaration of Independence truly declared that God created all men equal, but its authors forgot to add that men, and women in particular, have since sought out many sartorial inventions which have divided them into social classes.

CARLYLE TREATISE

Carlyle, in his Philosophy of Clothes, traces this descent of man from prehistoric communism down to the present age. He says it all began with a desire for decoration: "Nay, among wild people, we find tattooing and painting prior to clothes. The first spiritual want of a barbarous man is decoration, as indeed we still see among the barbarous classes in civilized countries. . . . clothes gave us individuality, distinctions, social policy; clothes made men of us; they are threatening to make clothes-screens of us."

That was written in the Victorian period when clothes, especially of women, completely screened the human form—divine—and otherwise. In the past 30 years the screens have been gradually abbreviated and on occasions almost entirely removed, so that we appear to be reverting to the savage state.

DESIRE FOR DECORATION

But the desire for decorative distinction remains, and is indeed stronger and more widespread than ever. It is the spur to ambition and progress, whether it be the decoration of a university degree or a new hat. Shakespeare says that "emulation hath a thousand sons."

The desire to equal or excel, whether it be prompted by a sense of inferiority, or jealous rivalry, is good for business and for society in general. I have not the least doubt that my appearance in public, topped-off with that new felt crown at the jaunty angle, not only fascinated the fair sex, but turned the males green with envy; with the resultant rush on the hat shops, circulation of purchasing power and more work for mad hatters.

From The Men—Their Own Stories

U.K. Information Office

THE UNITED KINGDOM Air Ministry in London announced recently that, owing to the fact that it will be some years before the full official history of the war is published, arrangements have been made for a preliminary history of the war in the air, 1939-45, to be written under the joint authorship of Denis Richards and Hilary St. George Saunders. (Mr. Saunders was the anonymous author of such war-time official best-sellers as "Battle of Britain" and "Combined Operations" and is the co-author of the well-known Francis Beeding Spy stories.)

The aim is to produce a work which will combine accuracy and impartiality with wide appeal. As will be realized, official records in themselves, however complete (and there is a first-class collection) are inevitably deficient in "life" and "atmosphere"—qualities which it is very important to recapture. If the history is to be more than a purely academic study, the Air Ministry therefore hopes to supplement its official records by collecting first-hand stories and accounts of conditions and operations from those who served in the Royal Air Force during the war.

DETAILS SOUGHT

Any officers, non-commissioned officer or other rank, of whatever nationality, who served with or was attached to the Royal Air Force during the period of hostilities is invited, therefore, to send to the Head of the Air Historical Branch, Air Ministry, Whitehall, details of

A recent survey among young people showed that the recreational activities that had provided them with the greatest satisfaction and stood out most vividly in their memories were simple outdoor features, such as picnics, canoe trips, hikes, wiener roasts, overnight camping trips. As in all other forms of recreation, skilled leadership is the essential ingredient for developing real interests in nature.

RAPID-FIRE OUTMODED

London (Ont.) Free Press

Young people who earn their living over the airways must perform speedily and clearly if they are to win an audience. Thank heavens the days of rapid-fire radio commentary, such as the late Floyd Gibbons who was wont to boast of the number of words he could shoot out in sixty seconds, are over, and we have come to a saner habit with the mike. Few things are so offensive as sloppy speech and few gifts are worth more to a young man than a pleasing and convincing way of speaking.

Ottawa Journal

The passion for destruction which loves the easy targets provided by the globes and bulbs on the lamp standards along Ottawa's Driveways must be curbed. Two men who broke ten lamp standards have to pay the cost of repairs, which is $70, and in addition each was fined $20 plus $3 costs by Magistrate O'Connor. That should be a lesson to those who like to break things, but the certainty of a jail term will be even more impressive.

There are some changes in the established order which even to the least bigoted appear as the opening of flood-gates and the obliteration of landmarks. Of such is an experiment which is being considered by the Leicestershire County Cricket Club. There is to be—the shocked pen almost refuses its office—no luncheon interval. Play will begin at 1 o'clock, tea will be from 4.15 to 4.45 and stumps will be drawn at 8. Advantage will be taken of the light afforded by double summer time and spectators can do a morning's work and yet get a full day's cricket for a half-day's idleness. The spectators will nibble their sandwiches in their seats as of old. But no luncheon interval!

Letter To The Editor

FOR SAFETY

In the interest of conservation of human life and limb, I would thank you to give this appeal to the local postal authorities, space in your valuable columns.

It has been brought to my attention that two "post boxes" are situated on the north side of the 100 block on Gorge Road, this causes the "none too fleet of foot" patients of the Nursing Homes on the south side to cross that busy thoroughfare to mail a letter.

If a "post box" was placed on the south side it would eliminate this hazard, and draw the thanks of the numerous feeble inhabitants of this locality.

Consideration will be given to all incidents reported wherever they took place—whether illustrating conditions and operations in or over Europe, the western desert, the Burmese Jungle or the High Seas. The comparatively unimportant incident, if sufficiently colorful, may be as valuable as the account of a major operation.

All information submitted should be as circumstantial and as carefully authenticated as possible in order that it may be compared with official records. By this means it is hoped to fix, for posterity a memorable and faithful picture of Britain's great national wartime effort in the air.

To Test Model Rocket Plane Off England's Southwest Coast

LONDON (CP)—Faster than sound, a rocket-propelled model airplane, shaped like a swordfish, will roar out over the North Atlantic next month, initiating a new series of experiments in supersonic aviation.

Soaring to a height of seven miles above the Scilly Islands, the model will automatically send out radar signals giving speed and height attained, the thrust developed by the rocket and the behavior of the machine in accelerating from subsonic to supersonic speeds.

The signals will be recorded on land and from them British scientists will be able to build up a mass of data from which "faster and better types of pilotless craft may be designed."

Sir Len Lockspeiser, chief scientist to the minister of supply, says the experiments are "as important to aviation as the first powered flights made by the Wright brothers in 1903."

"We decided to use pilotless craft for research purposes rather than risk the lives of test pilots in developing the new era of faster-than-sound travel," he said.

"Our goal is to active controlled flight at speeds greater than that of sound—760 miles per hour at sea level, decreasing to 660 miles per hour at 36,000 feet."

For the first experiment a Mosquito plane will take off from the R.A.F. station at St. Eval, Cornwall, with the rocket model slung beneath it bomb-fashion. At 36,000 feet the Mosquito pilot will press a lever, launching the model.

As the model glides down to 35,000 feet, a rocket motor will open up to boost the speed to more than 800 miles an hour. The fuel supply is expected to last only one minute—just sufficient for the model's performance to be observed and recorded.

It will then glide for another minute before a mechanical device sends it crashing into the sea—a necessary precaution since, unchecked, the model would glide on for a further 150 miles with potential danger to sea and aircraft.

Report Ajerbajjan Army Organizing For New Attack

TEHRAN (AP)—An Iranian source who has returned from a three-month tour of the north said here that remnants of the Azerbaijan province partisan army, estimated unofficially at 15,000 men, were organizing in the mountains for a summer campaign against the central government.

The informant said he was told the rebel groups were directed from across the Russian frontier by Azerbaijan officers who fled from Iran after the fall of December of the self-declared autonomous government which had been set up by Jafar Pishavari in Azerbaijan.

The Azerbaijan movement began at a time when the province still was occupied by Soviet troops and collapsed after the Soviet withdrawal.

The informant said he had seen units formerly connected with the Azerbaijan rebels making headquarters in isolated villages and caves in the Lake Urmia and Astra regions. He added that a leader told him, "we plan to start fighting this summer exactly as the partisans now are fighting in Greece."

(The Leftist partisans in Greece practice guerrilla warfare against the Greek government.)

Creative Banking

IS MONEY plus VISION

As a chartered bank, our first duty is to safeguard the depositors' money — to let it work at useful jobs where its future will be secure. That responsibility calls for critical judgment. Creative banking calls for that and something more: vision and a willingness to share the borrower's point of view... the knowledge and experience to recognize a good credit risk, and the ability to help it prosper. That's the kind of banking today's business needs — the kind of banking we like to do.

Let's do it together!

Import Machinery, Not Tobacco, Vote 70% Of Britishers

From British Institute of Public Opinion

Undaunted by the uphill road to recovery, the British people are steadfast in that dogged spirit which carried them through the war.

The going is tough — tougher than a year ago, six in every 10 British voters say. But they don't mind the lack of tobacco if it means getting more machinery to restore war-wrecked industry.

The latest British Gallup Poll surveyed an accurate national cross-section of voters on these topics:

"Compared with a year ago, are you finding it harder, easier, or about the same to make both ends meet?"

The response: Harder 60 per cent, easier 6 per cent, the same 32 per cent, undecided 2 per cent.

"Which of these things would you rather see us import from the United States in spending the American loan: Machinery; films; tobacco?"

The response: Machinery 70 per cent, films 4 per cent, tobacco 11 per cent, undecided 15 per cent.

The 70 per cent who said "Machinery," were then asked:

"Do you mind, or not mind, if that means that we have to go somewhat short of films and tobacco?"

The response: Mind 7 per cent, do not mind 61 per cent, undecided 2 per cent.

Woman Slayer Escapes Hospital

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Winnie Ruth Judd, who killed two women and shipped their dismembered bodies to Los Angeles in a trunk in 1931, escaped early today from the Arizona Hospital for the Insane, Dr. John A. Larson, superintendent, announced.

It was her third escape from the institution since she was saved from execution by being adjudged insane.

She was last seen at 9 Sunday night.

Dr. Larson used the word "convincances" in explaining escape of the 41-year-old convicted murderer.

He said she was believed to have used a key which opened two doors, one on the second floor which allowed her to descend a stairway, and another on the ground level.

A gate on the north side of the hospital grounds was found open, Dr. Larson said.

Fire John Bull Newspapers Chorus

LONDON (CP) — Fire John Bull — find Britain a new symbol.

A chorus to this effect has been heard since the Board of Trade issued posters for its new "Work or Want" campaign, the chief of which showed a grim, streamlined John Bull rolling up his sleeves.

The New Statesman and Nation described the figure as "a modernized version of Mr. Arbuthnot's 17th century John Bull, his physique improved by a Strachey diet, with a 'make-and-mend' waistcoat cut down from a V-E Day Union Jack, shod in Cripps' utility gumboots and wearing a pair of (stage comedian) Arthur Askey's 'combs'."

The daily News Chronicle went one farther and offered a £5 5s ($21) prize for a new symbol to replace John Bull.

AND not only did Mr. Cox sell it, he wrote it himself—by hand! Fifty years ago, when The Imperial Life started in business, all policies were laboriously handwritten in a style known as "engrossing", taking nearly half an hour for a single policy!

1913: SINKING OF TITANIC. The Imperial Life paid claims to dependents of those who lost their lives. In many disasters Imperial Life cheques have helped dependents face the future.

1919: IN THREE MONTHS of the influenza epidemic, the death loss amongst Imperial Life policyholders equalled 60% of the losses in four war years.

1946: IN 50 YEARS of operations, The Imperial Life has distributed $164 millions in policy benefits. This year The Imperial Life had $437 millions of insurance in force.

Preacher Deplores Present Day Music In Church Services

Ever since the Renaissance, secularity and indifference had crept into religious art and music and in some cases was "better suited to a tavern or a playhouse, than a church," according to E. Stanley Roper, M.V.O., B.A., Mus. Bac., the King's Organist of the Chapel Royal of St. James Palace, who preached the evening sermon at Christ Church Cathedral Sunday.

The visiting preacher-musician said that no worthwhile "sacred" music and art had been produced since the 13th century, and every since the Reformation there had been a steady deterioration of music and art.

"Modern youth finds religious services too lengthy and tiring," he said. "It is sometime urged that people will not go to church because the services are dull. The dullness is in their own hearts."

Mr. Roper said a church was a solemn and consoling refuge from the world and was not a lounge for irresponsible people in pyjamas and shorts. Furthermore, he added, it should not be "brightened up" so that frivolous minds should not be bored.

The pleasant Sunday afternoon, with attractive music offered as an inducement to people to come to church, was a denial of real religion and so defeated its own purpose, he said, in pointing out it had opened the door to the dance-band, which was featured 10 years ago in a church in Blackpool, Eng.

"Sacred music, like religious feeling, should be glorious, noble, and dignified," he said, "not trivial, self-centred or small. It must also subordinate the suggestion of bodily movement to a minimum, for the soul cannot rest while the body is at play."

Ask Sugar Coupons For Jam To Put In Parcels To Britain

A plea for sugar coupons from Victorians is being made by the special committee which is administering the Mayor's Fund for Parcels for Britain. The coupons will be used to purchase jam for inclusion in the parcels, it was explained. They may be turned in to the overseas parcels booths at Hudson Bay Company, David Spencer Ltd., Scott and Peden, or mailed to the City Hall. It was emphasized that all the contents for the 850 parcels, some of which are now en route to Britain, have been chosen from a list supplied by the Marchioness of Reading, head of the Women's Volunteer Services. If every citizen in Victoria were to contribute one of the preserving sugar coupons toward the parcels for Britain fund, it would mean that a tin of jam could be included in each parcel.

Up to the present $8,124 has been donated toward the fund, and a little more than half of this has been spent on the 850 parcels under order, from the three local firms. The parcels are being mailed out by the firms as fast as they get the necessary supplies and can get the address labels made out, to individual families whose names have been supplied by the W.V.S.

The W.V.S. has a lengthy list of families in flood areas who have never received a food parcel from overseas during the entire war.

On the outside of each parcel is being placed a large sticker, "Unsolicited food parcel from the Citizens of Greater Victoria, B.C., Canada to . . ." Inside is being enclosed a post card on which recipient can make a reply to the Mayor's Fund committee. This card carries "Greetings from Victoria, B.C., Canada."

Anniversary Tea At Memorial Hall

A goodly sum was realized on Saturday afternoon when Business Women's Branch of Christ Church Cathedral W.A. held a silver anniversary tea in the Memorial Hall. The president, Mrs. W. Crothall, received the guests.

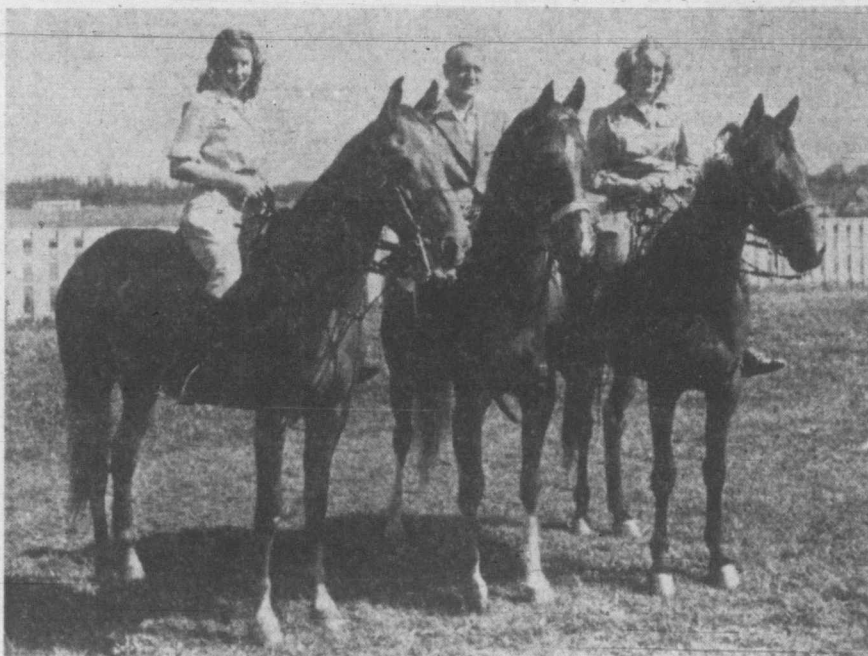

Highlight of the afternoon took place when Miss A. Turner, who organized the branch 25 years ago, cut the anniversary cake, and was presented with a colonial bouquet of lily of the valley and sweetheart roses. Miss M. Chrow introduced the honor guest.

Afternoon tea was served from a table covered with lace tablecloth centred with a silver bowl of spring blossoms, flanked by pink candles in silver holders. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. C. De V. Schofield and Mrs. C. W. Brooks. Tea arrangements were convened by Mrs. L. Small and Miss D. Brown, assisted by members of the branch. Miss K. MacLure was at the door.

The home cooking stall was convened by Mrs. R. Edwards and Mrs. J. Durran, while Miss M. Woodcock sold flowers. Plain and fancy needlework was sold by Mrs. A. Mayfield, Mrs. W. Drew and Miss M. Nicholson. Margaret Horne and Tonia Butt sold articles for the Junior W.A.

During the afternoon a musical program arranged by Miss Collins featured Mrs. H. Sheratt, vocalist, accompanied by Thos. Jenkins, Miss Ada Burt, vocalist, and Master John Yeend who gave violin solos accompanied by Miss Collins.

To Appear In Gymkhana At Willows On May 24

Miss Anne Cavenagh, Jock Findlay and Miss Pamela Pendray, left to right, members of the Victoria Riding and Hunt Club, will appear in the gymkhana and horse show at the Willows on May 24, commencing at 2.30. HISTORIC MEDICAL HIGHLIGHTS

HIPPOCRATES

Almost 25 centuries have passed since Hippocrates lived and practiced medicine on the island of Cos, yet his influence and teachings are still alive. In his medical treatises, preserved in the Hippocratic Collection, we find an operation described almost as it is done today and his ethical teachings, as set forth in the famous Hippocratic Oath, are repeated every year by many graduating medical students. It is no wonder that he is known today as the father of modern medicine and a symbol for all that is best in medical tradition.

High medical standards call for high quality medicines. You may be sure when you call on us to fill a prescription that every drug, herb or chemical used is of the very best quality and is compounded with the utmost skill.

Like a multitude of white mushroom caps, the paper coverings for 1,100 cantaloupe plants, are dotted over the fields on the farm of W. E. Pickford at Queenswood. The crop will be ready for market by August, Mr. Pickford reported, and the majority of it will be sold locally. Prior to the war, when farm labor was more plentiful, Mr. Pickford grew up to 4,000 plants, but at present the 1,100 are all he can handle. Main difficulty encountered Mr. Pickford reported, is from 4.7 which tear up the paper cups protecting the little plants, and also rip up the roofing paper spread between the rows. The roofing paper is to keep down weeds and conserve moisture. In the distant background can be seen the outlines of San Juan Island.

15th Brigade Holds 31st Anniversary Dinner; 74 Present

Seventy-four members of the 15th Brigade, C.F.A. Association, who were referred to by speakers as "relics of a grand and glorious adventure," gathered in the Armories Saturday night to celebrate the 31st anniversary of their departure for overseas service in the First World War.

After the Silent Toast to members of the brigade who died in the war and since, E. H. "Ted" King, president of the association, who presided, welcomed his former comrades who came from Port Alberni, Nanaimo, Duncan and Salt Spring Island as well as Victoria.

Archie Willis proposed the toast to the brigade and it was responded to by Joseph C. Clearhue. Each referred to many incidents which had occurred during the brigade's activities at Macaulay Point, Petawawa, Whitley and France.

Lt.-Col. Robert Travis, officer commanding the 16th Canadian Scottish Regiment, who served with the 15th Brigade as a bombardier, was the chief speaker and he made comparisons between service in the two wars.

The theme song of the brigade, "O Petawawa," composed by Robert Owens, was heard many times during the evening. Community singing was led by Cecil Heaton and solos were rendered by A. Stringer.

As each member introduced himself he had to tell his present occupation. Quite a number had reached the retirement age, and the oldest member present was 79.

Ralph Cruickshanks, secretary, told of where some of the absent members were located and reported on brigade finances.

After the entertainment finish the members were guests of Lt.-Col. George Paulin, officer commanding the 5th (B.C.) Coast Regiment, in the officers mess.

No one wanted the King's penny

French settlers in Canada were fussy about their money. First, they objected to wampum and wanted French coppers. When these ran out, they had to accept playing-card money. Then King Louis struck a special penny for them. Instead of welcoming this, they went on using paper money.

But, if these early Canadians were temperamental about the kind of money they used, they knew its value and the need for saving it.

You receive more money every week than they acquired in years; but, like them, you have one sure way to accumulate it—planned saving. So, why not open a savings account at The Huron & Erie? Chequing privileges can be arranged.

Damaged Stolen Truck Recovered

Property of B. Wilson Company, a one and a half ton flatdeck truck was recovered by Heaney's derrick service Sunday noon from its resting place on the banks of the Dallas Road waterfront at Douglas Street, after it had been sent hurtling through the guard railings by those who stole it. The truck was considerably damaged and 15 feet of railing was torn out. A resident in the vicinity heard the crash, looked out the window and saw the smashed rail. But she did not inform the police because she thought it was just a matter of a car having sideswiped the railing, Constables Norman Bath and Bill Elliott were informed.

3 Killed As Quake Rocks South Italy; 12 Towns Damaged

ROME (AP) — Three persons were killed and 40 injured Sunday in an earthquake which wrecked buildings and caused widespread damage in Calabria and other parts of southern Italy.

The quake, which also struck Sicily, was felt most severely at Iaccu Sullione, where two persons were killed and most of the other casualties occurred. The other fatality occurred at Santa Caterina Delio Ionio.

The Italian news agency Ansa, which tabulated the casualties, said about 12 towns and villages were damaged.

The quake rocked the city of Catanzaro at 8:34 a.m. and caused panic among the populace, Ansa said. A church wall collapsed at Badolato and buildings were damaged at Satriano. (Seismic disturbances also were felt in two other parts of the world during the week-end. The Central Meteorological Observatory said in Tokyo a slight quake was felt at 6:35 a.m. in northern Kyushu and western Shikoku, but that no damage was reported by Japanese islanders.)

(A mild earthquake shook the Palm Springs, Calif., area shortly after midnight Saturday, but caused no damage.)

Famed Typographic Artist, Goudy Dies

MARLBOROUGH, N.Y. (AP) — Frederic William Goudy, 82, world-renowned printing type designer, died of a heart attack Sunday.

Goudy, a native of Bloomington, Ill., had designed more than 100 type faces.

There was nothing in his early life to indicate the vocation he would ultimately follow and which was to bring him world-wide fame and a reputation among bibliophiles, printers, publishers, booksellers, librarians, and artists, for at the age of 30 Goudy was a bookkeeper.

In an interview years later he said of his designing: "I honestly don't know where in the world I got the faculty for doing this sort of thing. My people were all farmers and school teachers."

As a book shop clerk in Chicago, he was introduced to the work of William Morris, English poet and type-designer. Morris' work kindled Goudy's interest in drawing and design.

Slav Attache Says Terrorists Aided

VIENNA (Reuter) — Franz Drenovec, press attache to the Yugoslav Mission in Vienna, today accused U.S., British and French authorities of knowingly tolerating an organization for sending terrorists into Yugoslavia.

He declared some of these terrorists had been caught on Yugoslav soil and that an organization for sending them existed in Austria, Italy and Germany.

Drenovec alleged that U.S., British and French occupation authorities, in differing degrees, were frustrating all Yugoslav efforts to obtain the return of displaced persons and extradition of war criminals.

Morrison, Lea Gain Final In City Golf

Bob Morrison, defending champion, and 20-year-old Ken Lea will battle over 36 holes, at the Gorge Vale Golf Club next Sunday, for the city amateur championship. Morrison, a veteran of Willingdon Cup and Canadian amateur championship competition, gained the final with a 3 to 2 victory over Eric Hiberson while Lea sprang an upset by defeating Billy McColl, Colwood, the tournament medalist, 1 up.

Morrison and Lea are both from the Uplands Club and the final is expected to produce some high-class play. It will be a case of the experience of a veteran pitted against the challenge of youth.

In the quarterfinals Morrison survived a terrific battle with Harold Lineham, Colwood veteran, to win 1 up. Lea put out his clubmate, Gordon Varley, 2 and 1 while Hiberson, Uplands, turned back the threat of Vic Painter, Colwood, McColl won his match from Walter Newcombe, Oak Bay, 2 and 1.

Semifinals of the first flight yesterday saw W. A. Bird capture a marathon struggle with Joe Briggs at the 26th hole and Dr. G. Bigelow defeat E. Barber 2 up. Third flight final resulted a 2 up victory for M. Johnston over F. Brawn while G. Straith took fourth flight honors from A. Cox at the 25th hole.

Bobby Locke Wins Houston Open Golf

HOUSTON, Texas (AP)—Bobby Locke, with the help of great putting, won the $10,000 Houston Open tournament Sunday with a 72-hole total of 277—11 under par.

The Johannesburg, South African, played the final 18 holes in 69 shots. He was the only entry to master Memorial Park's weary 7,241 yards every trip.

Peter Salmon, one of the outstanding young swimming stars of the city, was honored Sunday when it was announced that he had been awarded the Sid Thomas memorial trophy as the "Athlete of the Year."

Presented in honor of the former sports editor of the Colonist, who was one of the best-known figures in athletic circles of the city, the trophy will be presented to Salmon in a special ceremony preceding the Bremerton-Athletics baseball game on May 22.

George H. Morgan was awarded the prize for writing the best letter describing the athletic merits and accomplishments of Salmon during the past year.

Chuck Chapman, great hoop star of the Dominions, was well honored in the voting as were Vic Dale and Rookie Wright.

The prize-winning letter of Morgan's nominating Salmon for the honor outlined the young 17-year-old's athletic ability, team spirit, popularity and sportsmanship.

His partner was J. Holyoak.

Joe Gordon Makes Cleveland Threat

A month ago anyone brash enough to pick Cleveland Indians to win the American League pennant would have been rushed to a psychopathic ward. Today that pennant thought holds many fans—and they don't all live in Cleveland.

Oddly enough, their biggest reason is not Bobby Feller, baseball's No. 1 righthander—it's the former New York Yankee star second baseman, Joe Gordon.

In performing like a thoroughbred at his old second base post and teaming perfectly with manager Lou Boudreau in the field, Gordon has set a terrific pace. At the moment, he is batting well over .300, is leading the American League in home runs and trails Boston's Bobby Doerr in the important runs-batted-in department by one for individual leadership.

He hammered out two home runs and a single yesterday and drove in four runs to lead Indians to a 16 to 1 victory over St. Louis Browns. The triumph enabled the Tribe to take over the runner-up spot, only 1½ games behind the front-running Detroit Tigers who swept a doubleheader from Chicago White Sox 10 to 0 and 6 to 1 before 45,755 fans in Chicago.

YANKS BEATEN

The defending champion Boston Red Sox gladdened a crowd of 32,211 home-town rooters by nosing out the Yankees 8 to 7. Philadelphia Athletics divided a pair with Washington, winning the opener 4 to 0 and dropping the nightcap 2 to 1.

Chicago Cubs took over the National League lead by one full game from Boston Braves by whipping the Reds in Cincinnati twice 6 to 3 and 4 to 3. A turn-out of 51,840 saw New York Giants hold the Braves to a split as the Polo Grounds won the first 8 to 1 and lost the second 11 to 3.

Philadelphia Phils handed Brooklyn Dodgers a severe jolt by humbling them twice before a record, Shibe Park crowd of 40,952, 7 to 3 and 5 to 4.

St. Louis Cardinals emerged with a win and a tie in their doubleheader in Pittsburgh, winning the first in 10 innings 10 to 6 and tying the second 3 to 3 with the game called at the end of seven innings.

More than 4,500 fight fans thronged the Port Arthur arena Saturday night for the finals. Heading the eight champions is Archie Sparrow of Hamilton, Ont., who scored a surprise victory in the heavyweight division. Billy Powell of Port Arthur retained the welterweight crown he won last year, by scoring a decision over Art Graves of Hamilton.

Other winners are: Jack Dugan, Peterborough, Ont., middleweight; Johnny Scott, Montreal, flyweight; Jerry Shears, Montreal, lightweight; Frankie White, Winnipeg, featherweight; Adam Faul, Regina, light heavyweight, and Frank Almond, Vancouver, bantamweight.

Reserve energy gave Frank Almond the bantamweight crown after Armand Savoie of Montreal started with a flurry in the first round. When the three-round match ended the popular Montrealer was hanging on the ropes.

Aces Hand Esquimalt 10 To 5 Drubbing In Senior A Softball

Brentwood Aces moved into a first-place tie with Esquimalt Meat Market for the leadership of the senior A softball race at Central Park on Sunday, as they broke loose in the last two innings for seven runs and a 10 to 5 victory over the hitherto undefeated suburbanites.

Esquimalt tailed twice in the second and added two more in the fifth and wound up their scoring in the sixth with a single tally, while holding the Aces to two runs in the third.

Trailing 5 to 2 entering the seventh, Brentwood started to get to the offerings of Kinch on the hill for Esquimalt, and pushed one run across after loading the bases. In the eighth canto, Ray Hough sewed up his own hall game when he connected for a home run with the bases loaded. Brentwood added three more tallies in the first of the ninth for good measure to hand Esquimalt their first league loss of the season.

Oak Bay Golfers Win

Oak Bay Golf Club defeated Seattle Golf Club, 46½ to 37½, in the first of their home and home-team golf tournament over the Oak Bay course last weekend, and will take the nine-point margin with them to Seattle when the second match is played later in the year. Forty-two members from each club took part in the match.

Calgary-Montreal In Sudden-Death Ice Final

TORONTO (CP)—For Calgary Stampede, with 10 weeks of playoff hockey behind them, the most important game of their long defence of the Allan Cup, lies directly ahead.

Tonight Stampede's Montreal Royals meet at Montreal in the final game of a best-of-seven series stretched to the limit by a valiant up-hill struggle by the westerners. Twice they have fought back from the brink of elimination.

The seventh game was made necessary Saturday night when Calgary, challenging easterners who virtually had counted them out when the score in games stood 3 to 1 against them last week, scored a convincing 5 to 2 victory.

The triumph was mainly a one-man show by centre Ken (Red) Hunter, who potted three goals and inspired his teammates.

Archie Wilder put Stampede into a lead they never relinquished early in the first period when he scored as Royals defenceman Doug Harvey served a penalty.

GAIN TWO-GOAL LEAD
Calgary outclassed the Royals during the period and at 16:45 Hunter sent the defending champs into a 2 to 0 lead.

Royals fought back in the second frame and had the edge in play most of the period as they scored twice from the stick of right winger Jacques Locas while Hunter was getting his second.

Early in the third period the Calgary centre star sent his team into 4 to 2 advantage with each team a man short. His shot hit a goal post, rebounded inwards and the puck ended up in the opposite corner of the net McNeil.

Play roughened up in the late stages of the game when five of the last period's seven penalties were handed out—four to Royals and one to Stampede.

In the closing minutes Bunny Dame, former National Hockey League player with Montreal Canadiens, scored unassisted for the westerners to put the game on ice.

A's Tied For Lead; Take On Vancouver

Fresh from two smashing victories over Spokane Indians Saturday, 12 to 8 and 16 to 3, Victoria Athletics tackle their arch rivals in the Western International League, Vancouver Capilanos, tonight in the opener of a three-game ball series. After knocking the Indians out of first place with 3 to 1 series triumph to move into the number one position, tied with Bremerton, Manager Ted Norbert's sluggers are all primed to work over the Caps.

Max Little, stocky righthander who stopped Wenatchee in his last start last Wednesday, is slated to start for the A's tonight with Len Kasparovitch getting the call for Tuesday night's engagement, Joe Blankenship or Les Mitchell will likely go Wednesday.

Athletics' pitching staff was further strengthened today with the scheduled arrival of 24-year-old Ray Fortier. A smooth throwing southpaw, Fortier has been sent to the Victoria club on option from the San Diego Padres of the Coast League. With another righthander scheduled to join the club within a week or so the Athletics mound staff will be pretty well set for the season. In order to balance their roster the Athletics announced Saturday that southpaw Bill Rothrock had been sent to Ventura of the California State League.

POUND SIX PITCHERS

Literally knocking the hide off the ball, Athletics just about wrecked the Spokane pitching staff Saturday. Indians paraded a total of six hurlers to the mound in the two tilts and they were shellacked for a total of 31 Jack Harshman and Babe Jensen triples by Pat Patterson and hits, including home runs by Jensen and nine doubles by Bill White 3, Jensen 2, Vic Mastro 2, Frank Lucchesi and Patterson.

In the night game the A's bounced base hits off every fence in the park as the crowd of over 2,000 went wild. Mastro with four for four, Jensen three for four, White three for six, Lucchesi three for five and Patterson two for four led the batting rampage. With the boys hitting so well Manager Norbert seldom had the take sign on electing to give the players every chance to fatten their batting averages.

Afternoon game Saturday saw the A's come on to win after being down 6 to 0 in the first inning as Spokane greeted starter Jim Gibson with a five-hit barrage. He went out during the hit spree to be replaced by Bill Prior. After early control trouble, Prior blanked Spokane until the seventh when they got to him for one run. He was lifted in the eighth after walking the first batter as the A's took no chances of going behind. Joe Blankenship shut the door the rest of the way.

Manager Ted Norbert was thrown out of the game in the first inning for protesting too strong and long on a call at first base on an attempted double play.

Despite his usual control trouble, southpaw Bill Woop came up with another mound win in the nightcap. He gave up 12 walks, but more than balanced them with 13 strikeouts.

Short scores follow:

First game:
Spokane 12 9 0
Victoria 6 10 1
Batteries—Latta, Zimbrick, Sterenson and Buflap; Gibson, Prior, Blankenship and Mastro.

Second game:
Spokane 2 4 4

SUNDAY'S GAMES

Bremerton moved into a dead lock with the A's for first place by taking two games from Yakima, Sunday, 8 to 3 and 6 to 2. Centre fielder Eddie Murphy's two home runs marked Bremerton's win in the opener. Murphy played for Victoria last season.

At Tacoma the Chiefs split a doubleheader with Salem, winning the first 12 to 9 but dropping the second 5 to 4 in 10 innings.

First game:
Yakima 3 6 3
Bremerton 6 10 1
Batteries—Simon, Brysch (1), Knudson (1), Knowles (7) and Kerr; Marshall and Rounding.

Cann Hurls Vets To Win; Eagles Split With Duncan

Lloyd Cann, veteran knuckleball star of the Canadian Legion, yesterday afternoon hurled his mates to a 6 to 5 victory over Chemainus McBrides, in the first game of the season between local and up-island nines at Macdonald Park.

The win was Cann's second in two starts, and moves the Legion back into second place in the loop standings.

For six innings the spot-ball pitcher of the vets fielded the up-islanders scoreless, while his mates pecked away at the offerings of Doug English and Don Johns for all six of their runs.

Chemainus picked up three runs in the seventh when Ken McNichol singled with the bases loaded to drive home two runners. Milmore followed with another single to account for the third marker.

Two singles, plus a bad throw by catcher Micky Smith, allowed the visitors to come within one run of tying up the game in the first of the ninth, but Cann forced Bill Jansch to pop up with the tying run on second base.

Rookie Wright homered for the vets in the third, while Jansch and Gibbons picked up doubles for the visitors.

EAGLES SPLIT

Playing at Duncan, Gar Taylor's Eagles split a double bill with the all-stars, winning the first game 9 to 5 and dropping the nightcap 9 to 7.

Brousseau worked the first seven innings for the birdmen in the afternoon encounter, but had to be relieved by Bobby Prior in the eighth when the Duncan nine threatened a rally. Eagles picked up eight hits from Gurd, while Duncan were only able to manage five from the two Victoria hurlers.

Eagles blew the nightcap after holding a 7 to 1 lead going into the sixth inning. A home run by catcher Pete Horyluck was the big blow of the uprising, accounting for two of Duncan's tallies. Bob Prior was tagged with loss in the ninth inning when the all-stars scored two runs on a pair of errors by the Victoria outer-gardeners. Stan Davies started on the hill in the night contest but was lifted in the eighth. Falk received credit for the win.

Loss to Eagles still leaves them out in front of the league standings with three victories and one defeat.

Los Angeles Takes Over First Place In Coast Baseball

Sparkling pitching performances dotted the Sunday scene as the Los Angeles Angels ascended unaccompanied, to the Coast League's top rung.

With big southpaw Cliff Chambers of Bellingham turning in his seventh straight victory against no defeats in the opener, the Angels polished off Hollywood's Stars twice, 2 to 1 and 6 to 5, to go a full game ahead of San Francisco.

The Seals traded shutout wins with the San Diego Padres. Another lanky lefty, Cliff Melton, fanned 12 as he hurled San Francisco to a 3 to 0 decision in the first game. Then, Padre Ed Vitalch shaded Jack Brewer, 1 to 0.

The day's top duel, however, was another extra-inning thriller—this time for 15 frames—between Sacramento and Portland. The Solons reached veteran Tommy Bridges for two runs in the 15th to win 3 to 2. Vince Dibiasi spun a two-hit shutdown to give the Beavers the second game, 3 to 0.

The pitching wasn't so sensational, but the games couldn't have been closer in Oakland where the Oaks took Seattle twice, 6 to 5 and 3 to 2.

Determination Here To Have Scout At Paris World Parley

Acting on behalf of the executive of the Victoria and District Boy Scout Association, George Brisco, president, has alarmed Dominion commissioner, R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, and Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P. for Nanaimo, urging action to have Canadian representation at the August Scout world jamboree outside Paris.

"Public opinion is aroused in this matter and we are going to do everything in our power to have Canadian Scouts at the important conclave," Mr. Brisco points out in his letter, also noting that individual action was contemplated to have the Victoria selectee, Macgregor Macintosh, 17, of the Oak Bay troop, attend. Included were suggestions of methods to have the youthful group transported across the Atlantic.

The president's action followed close on the heels of an Ottawa announcement late last week that the 30-boy Canadian delegation would be unable to go owing to the acute shipping shortage situation. The report said it was planned to send two officials from the Dominion headquarters instead.

In his letters, Mr. Brisco indicated the possibility of having the contingent go to England on the aircraft carrier Warrior. He said it was understood here the ship will be crossing in July and another returning to Canada at a later date. The carriers, the president said, have accommodation for trainees.

Secondly, there were several freighters sailing from Montreal and Halifax of the Manchester Ship Canal Line on regular schedules with a return passage fee of $300, he wrote.

Mr. Brisco asked if there was a possibility of tying the Canadians up with the U.S. 1,000-strong contingent.

"There is a feeling in this district, whatever happens nationally, that we could send our own boy—and the service clubs and public are 100 per cent behind us in the proposal," wrote Mr. Brisco.

"It has even been suggested that we send our own boy, if need be, by air to join a British contingent on arrival in England."

Mr. Brisco concluded his letter with the hope other districts in Canada are taking like action.

Need Special Permit To Convert Huts At Gordon Head Camp

Saanich Council has informed the City Council that the Gordon Head region, in which the army camp is situated, is zoned for single family dwellings only, and that before the 65 buildings there can be used for emergency housing units the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council will have to make application to the Zoning Board of Appeal.

The Saanich Council also asked for definite assurance that the buildings would be used for temporary shelter for war veterans only and would not be permitted to become permanent residences. The Saanich authorities called attention to the fact that there has been considerable trouble at the camp regarding effluent from septic tanks and the council has ordered that report from the plumbing and sanitary inspectors be submitted. Any work necessary to abate this nuisance will have to be performed, it was stated.

A similar letter has been sent to the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, John Tribe, municipal clerk, said.

Authors Advised On How To Sell Works

"How to Sell Your Writings" was the subject of a panel discussion of the Victoria branch of the Canadian Authors' Association at the monthly meeting. Participants were Mrs. Robin Breach, Miss Yvonne Stevenson, J. Williamson and D. G. McLeod. As Mr. McLeod was unable to be present his views were presented in a paper read by the president, Miss Clara E. Hill.

Miss Stevenson dealt with the sale of factual articles. She held that accuracy and timeliness were essentials. It was not so much a matter of fine writing, and if an article could be hung on a newspaper, so much the better would be its chance of acceptance. Mr. McLeod outlined a number of conditions for the short story, such as characterization, length and plot, which were all considered desirable. Mrs. Breach reviewed the question from all sides. She held that while it was natural that a writer should wish his work to be enjoyed by others and to be compensated for it, it was a mistake to sacrifice everything for commercial ends. The writer who worked with the sole desire for pay would lose even in that respect in the end, since the best writing must come as a sincere expression of the heart regardless of monetary results. Mr. Williamson dealt with the novel, holding that a book presents a wider opportunity for the development of plot and the delineation of character than could be found in shorter contributions.

The meetings of the association are now being held in Room 63, Arcade Building, on the second Friday evening of each month. Preparations are under way for the national convention of the Canadian Authors' Association to be held on the coast in July.

May Queen Contest Enters Final Week

Victoria's May Queen Contest, sponsored by the Lions Club, enters its final week today. The contest will close on Saturday and the winner will be announced on May 19.

The count of ballots, turned in Saturday night, revealed that $2,227.50 had been raised by the sale of votes since the contest opened April 28. Contest officials hope this amount will be greatly increased during the coming week as the proceeds of the contest are to be used to defray the costs of most of the other activities which are planned during the four-day festivities of the Victoria Day celebrations.

Kay Trevelyan has again climbed to the top of the list, it was announced following Saturday's count. Miss Trevelyan now has 42,500. She leads her second place rival, May Harris, by an even 2,000. Miss Harris has 40,500.

Dorothy Saunders is holding her third place position with 34,500 votes.

Only 250 votes separate Marjorie Ross and Helen McCaughey for fourth-place honors. Miss Ross has 30,500 and Miss McCaughey has 30,250.

Jessie Robertson and Fernie Clarke have 28,250 and 16,250, respectively.

The Conquer-Cancer campaign has applied to the City Council for a grant similar to that given last year.

Thousands Observe Mother's Day In Churches And Home

Mother's Day was observed in Victoria by churches of all denominations Sunday with special sermons, emphasising in particular the importance of "family life."

St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Cathedral was filled to capacity for the occasion. Rev. J. L. Blanchard preached the sermon. Although the Anglican Church celebrates the occasion the second Sunday after Lent "Mothering Day," most of the churches made some mention of the occasion.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church a special service was held to commemorate the day. Rev. J. Lewis W. McLean, M.A., preached the sermon which dealt with family life and its relationship to civilization.

Victoria florists report an all-time record of the sale of flowers for Mother's Day, and in some cases florists were almost sold out.

Presentations were made to mothers at the Glad Tidings Sunday School to the oldest mother and to the mother with the largest family. Mrs. R. A. Richmond, 946 Yates Street, was presented with a gift for being the mother of 12 children, and was also given another presentation for having the greatest number of children present at Sunday school.

Eighty-five-year-old Mrs. P. Moir, 2529 Garden, was awarded a gift for being the oldest mother of the church, while Mrs. I. Fehr, received a presentation for being the most recent mother. The Sunday school senior girls also presented every woman present with button-hole flowers for the occasion.

"Ask the People We Serve"

British Spinsters Demonstrate To Press Demand For Pensions

LONDON (CP)—Hundreds of spinsters from many parts of Britain, demanding pensions for single women at 55, marched Sunday from a Trafalgar Square rally to Downing Street singing their battle song: "We're a gallant band of spinsters, from north, south, east and west."

The song was sung to the tune of "John Brown's Body." Masses of laughing, singing holiday-makers trailed the demonstrators, who were prevented from "breaking ranks" by an escort of mounted police. Further police reinforcements kept order outside Number 10 while the spinsters delivered a copy of their resolution for Prime Minister Attlee.

Earlier, large crowds wedged in a tight mass around Nelson's Column applauded orator spinsters of all ages, some of whom had traveled from Manchester, Birmingham and Newcastle. Borne aloft were flaring banners such as "Spinsters want a square deal," "Textile spinsters demand justice" and "We demand equality with the widow."

Typical of those demanding pensions at 55 was Miss May Bevan from St. Anne's, Lancashire, who said she had worked hard all of her life and now at 58 had to be at her bench by 6 a.m. daily.

BEYOND THEIR ABILITY

Miss Florence White, honorary organizer of the National Spinsters' Pensions Association, said the government "is compelling many spinsters who have already given more than 40 years' service to their country to go on working past their capacity."

She said spinsterhood had been forced upon many women by two wars and "there is no reason why they should suffer for it."

The demonstration was organized by Miss Enid Goulden Bach, who said her mother had taken part in the original demonstration for the women's vote. "We have re-created the spirit of that movement," Miss Bach said.

Montreal Group Wins Drama Festival Award

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Les Compagnons of Montreal were awarded the Bessborough Trophy, symbolic of Dominion Drama Festival acting honors, at conclusion of the Dominion Drama Festival Saturday night.

The French-speaking group whose actors maintain anonymity, delighted a capacity audience Wednesday night with their spirited presentation of two acts of Moliere's farce "Le Medecin Malgre Lui" (A Doctor in Spite of Himself). The group is directed by Rev. Father Emile Legault.

Committees Keep M.P.'s Hard At Work

OTTAWA (CP)—Some Commons committees are having trouble finding quorums these days because so many are sitting on the same days and at the same time.

For instance, tomorrow seven committees are to hold sittings practically at the same time. There are the committee on external affairs, standing orders, redistribution, Indian affairs, railways and shipping, public accounts and Dominion Elections Act.

There is a possibility the radio committee will also call its first meeting Tuesday.

However, the redistribution committee and the committee established to decide what should be done with army canteen funds are expected to end their sittings within a week or two.

The redistribution committee, charged with re-aligning the boundaries of federal electoral constituencies so as to increase the Commons membership from 245 to 255, still has to receive the report from the Saskatchewan subcommittee. Reports from all other provinces have been received and approved by the committee.

Efficient Firemen

Ford's finer in '47!

For the motorist who likes to get going, the '47 Ford V-8 offers the pep and pull and rippling power of its V-type engine—the type used in the most expensive cars. Low axle ratios let the engine loaf while the car hustles. Result: smoother travelling, less strain, longer engine life.

And there's the newly-styled instrument panel with big new dials for easy reading; new body contours, new front end appearance; new stainless steel body moulding; new heavier bumper guards, and many other new features.

Ford is out in front in beauty—in comfort—in performance. Ask your Ford and Monarch dealer about delivery. We hope soon to be catching up with that long list of patient people who won't be satisfied with anything less than Ford V-8 performance for their money.

Dominion Shows
'Les Miserables'

"Les Miserables" Darryl F. Zanuck's unforgettable production of the Victor Hugo classic, which opens its return engagement tomorrow at the Dominion Theatre, is the first film in which the now famous man-and-wife team of Fredric March and Florence Eldridge ever appeared. Since then, they have appeared opposite each other many times, but mostly in stage presentations. The couple, who were married when both appeared in the Theatre Guild production of "The Guardsman," are currently starred in the Broadway stage play, "Years Ago."

PLAZA THEATRE

Deanna Durbin marked the 10th anniversary of her arrival at Universal, now Universal-International, during the filming of "I'll Be Yours," currently showing at the Plaza Theatre.

The new comedy romance is Deanna's 18th picture, and the seventh produced by her husband, Felix Jackson. It is the first screen appearance for Deanna since the birth of her daughter, Jessica Louise.

Tom Drake and William Bendix are Deanna's co-stars in "I'll Be Yours," which was directed by William Setzer.

RIO THEATRE

Against the background of the scenic west, Republic has filmed the fast-moving action-filled "Man From Oklahoma," starring Roy Rogers, the King of the Cowboys, now at the Rio Theatre for a limited engagement. Rogers rides his beautiful palomino horse, Trigger, sings and plays his guitar, with the breezy charm which has made him the top cowboy star of the nation. George "Gabby" Hayes is featured in the musical Western which includes songs by Dale Evans and the Sons of the Pioneers.

Adapted from a play by Louis Verneuil, the screenplay was written by John Collier and Joseph Than.

'Sinbad The Sailor'
Presented At Royal

Several of the people responsible for the spectacular success of RKO Radio's Technicolor special, "The Spanish Main," are reunited currently in "Sinbad the Sailor," also in technicolor. They are Maureen O'Hara, Walter Slezak and Mike Mazurki. Stephen Ames, producer of "Sinbad the Sailor," acted as associate producer on "The Spanish Main," and George Yates, who wrote the screenplay for that picture also collaborated with John Twist on the original story of Sinbad, while Carol Clark was responsible for the art direction on both pictures.

"Sinbad the Sailor" is a stirring story of romance, and stars Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Maureen O'Hara and Walter Slezak, and now to be seen at the Royal Theatre.

INDIGESTION at the movies..

TWO
give instant aid

Indigestion often hits you at the most awkward times. At the movies for instance—just when you're all set to enjoy the show. You want quick relief—and you can have it if you carry a few RENNIES in your pocket or handbag, because you can take them at once.

Digestif-RENNIES are pleasant-tasting tablets. You dissolve them on your tongue like candies. Their soothing antacid ingredients mingle with the saliva of your mouth and drip gently into your stomach, thus quickly helping to neutralize excess acid, also helping to relieve the miserable feelings of indigestion, upset stomach and heartburn, etc. Each RENNIES tablet is individually wrapped in hygienic waxed paper. Carry a few in pocket or handbag. Easy to take—anytime, anywhere. At all Drug Stores—25c & 75c.

RENNIES don't relieve your indigestion.
It's high time you saw your doctor.
